THE SHORT VERSION

WHAT

AN AI + ENTREPRENEURSHIP CREW

A free community that teaches AI tools, branding, and SEO, plus hands-on consulting for businesses that want it done with them.

WHY

BE YOUR OWN HERO

Nobody is coming to build your business for you. With the right tools, one person can do what used to take a team.

LOOK

OPEN SKY, DARK TYPE, ONE RED

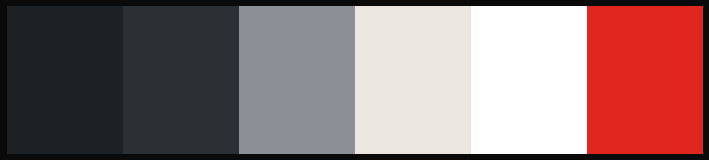

The circle-A badge. Black label boxes over bright, first-light skies. Ignition Red for exactly one idea per layout.

SOUND

STRAIGHT TALK

Plain words, dry humor, receipts over hype. No exclamation points. No gurus.

SECTION 01

STORY

AntiHero started as a fitness, travel, and lifestyle channel. The badge was always bigger than the niche.

WHERE THIS CAME FROM

LIFE IS SHORT. MAKE IT MAGICAL.

That was the line on the original AntiHero channel art: white label boxes stacked over a dark, sun-bleached beach. It covered fitness, travel, lifestyle, and drones.

The badge did the real work. A circle-A that trades half its ring for the word hero. It said: you don't have to wait for one. You can be one, on your own terms.

AntiHero now trains a different muscle: AI tools, branding, search, and the unglamorous work of building a business. Same attitude. New weights.

THE ORIGINAL CHANNEL ART: THE LABEL-BOX SYSTEM STARTS HERE

The original badge, recovered from a 337 px screenshot. Every visual in this bible grows from these two pieces.

THE REBUILD

FROM A BLURRY SCREENSHOT TO CLEAN VECTOR

The only surviving copy of the logo was a small, compressed avatar. It has been rebuilt: the circle-A from measured geometry, the lettering traced and redrawn as smooth curves. It now scales from a 16 px favicon to a billboard.

BEFORE: ORIGINAL, ENLARGED

AFTER: REBUILT VECTOR, SAME CROP

Faithful. The rebuilt mark matches the original within 0.6% of its pixels, so it reads as the same logo.

Systematic. One stroke weight everywhere (0.158 of the radius), and a diagonal fixed at 24.7°.

Master files. SVG in `02_Logos`, plus PNGs up to 8192 px for print and signage.

SECTION 02

POSITIONING

What AntiHero is, who it is for, and what it refuses to become.

MISSION

GIVE ORDINARY PEOPLE THE TOOLS, THE SKILLS, AND THE NERVE TO BUILD ON THEIR OWN TERMS.

THE GROUP

A free community on Facebook. Weekly AI tool breakdowns, live workshops, prompt swaps, and build-in-public threads. Beginners welcome.

CONSULTING

Hands-on help for businesses: branding, SEO and Google Business Profile, AI systems and automations, and getting the basics set up properly. Done-for-you builds go to the sister studios, KR8TIV and KR8TIV AI (section 09).

WHO IT IS FOR

Solo founders, side-hustlers, tradespeople going out on their own, creators, and small-business owners who are tired of paying for hype.

WE ARE FOR	WE ARE AGAINST
Doing it yourself, with better tools	Waiting for permission
Showing the prompt, the steps, the numbers	Guru culture and screenshot flexing
Free basics, shared in the open	Paywalled common sense
Slow, honest growth	“Passive income” fairy tales
Beginners asking questions	Gatekeeping and dunking

THE ANTI-HERO IDEA

HEROES WAIT FOR THE CALL. ANTI-HEROES ANSWER THEIR OWN.

The internet is full of people selling you a savior: the course, the guru, the secret. AntiHero is the opposite. Nobody here is going to save you, and that is the good news.

You are the main character. The group is the crew: people learning in public, sharing what works, and pulling the next person up. AI is the new gear: it gives one person the reach of a small team, if they learn to use it.

The badge says it without words. The circle-A is the old sign for going your own way. Half the circle is missing, and the word hero completes it. The story isn't finished until you write yourself into it.

YOU COMPLETE THE CIRCLE.

BRAND PILLARS

FOUR THINGS WE ALWAYS DO

01

OWN YOUR STORY

Agency over everything. Nobody is coming. Good. Every post ends with something the reader can do today.

02

TOOLS OVER TALK

Show the prompt, the workflow, and the result. Practical beats inspirational, every time.

03

STRAIGHT TALK

No hype, no fake screenshots, no overnight promises. If something is hard or slow, say so.

04

BUILD IN PUBLIC

Share the work, the numbers, and the mistakes. The whole group learns faster that way.

When in doubt, test a post against the pillars. If it doesn't hand the reader agency, a tool, the truth, or the real work behind it, cut it.

VOICE

The friend who has already done it, telling you the truth over coffee.

HOW WE SOUND

DIRECT. DRY. USEFUL.

WE ARE	WE ARE NOT
Direct	Harsh
Dry humor	Snark at beginners
Plain words	Jargon and buzzwords
Confident	Cocky or salesy
Specific	Vague and motivational

MECHANICS

No exclamation points. Oxford comma. Numbers as numerals. Headlines in caps (Bebas Neue), body in sentence case. "AI" is always capitalized. Say you, not users. Say build, not hustle.

DO

Here's the exact prompt I used. Steal it.

DON'T

Unlock the secret AI hack 99% of people don't know about!!!

DO

This took me three weekends. Here's what broke.

DON'T

Make $10K a month on autopilot with this one tool.

DO

SEO is slow. Start today anyway.

DON'T

Rank #1 on Google overnight, guaranteed.

WORDS WE USE

`build, ship, tools, test, learn, own, story, plain, real, crew, receipts`

WORDS WE AVOID

`hustle, passive income, guru, crush it, secret, game-changer, revolutionary`

Big numbers need receipts. "I wrote 40 product descriptions before lunch" beats any multiplier. Keep it fun: the work is serious, the tone doesn't have to be.

GROUP DESCRIPTION

AntiHero is a free community for entrepreneurs who want to use AI to build the business of their dreams.

Every week we share AI tools, prompts, branding, and SEO you can put to work the same day, and once a week we go live and build something real together. You can walk in knowing nothing about AI and walk out with a ton you can actually use.

We're all about good vibes here: laughing, learning, and helping each other out, whatever level you're at. Nobody's coming to save you. You never needed saving.

The full version, with the weekly rhythm, is in the Group Kit.

GROUP RULES

1. Good vibes only. We're here to laugh, learn, and help each other out.
2. Everyone's at a different level. Some of us are just starting and some have been at it for years.
3. Ask before you advertise. Just message me first so I can take a look.
4. Politics stay outside. This is a place for building, so let's leave politics at the door.
5. Help where you can. Share what worked, what didn't, and what you'd do differently.
6. Keep it real. Real work, real numbers, real photos.
7. If something goes sideways. If a post crosses the line, I'll message you and we'll talk it out.

MEMBERSHIP QUESTIONS

1. What are you building right now, or what do you want to build?
2. Which AI tools do you use today? ("None yet" is a great answer.)
3. How did you find AntiHero?

> Setup steps, the weekly series, and the first ten posts: `05_Social/Facebook/Group-Kit`.

SECTION 04

LOGO

The badge, the mark, the wordmark, and the rules that keep them sharp.

THE BADGE · PRIMARY LOGO

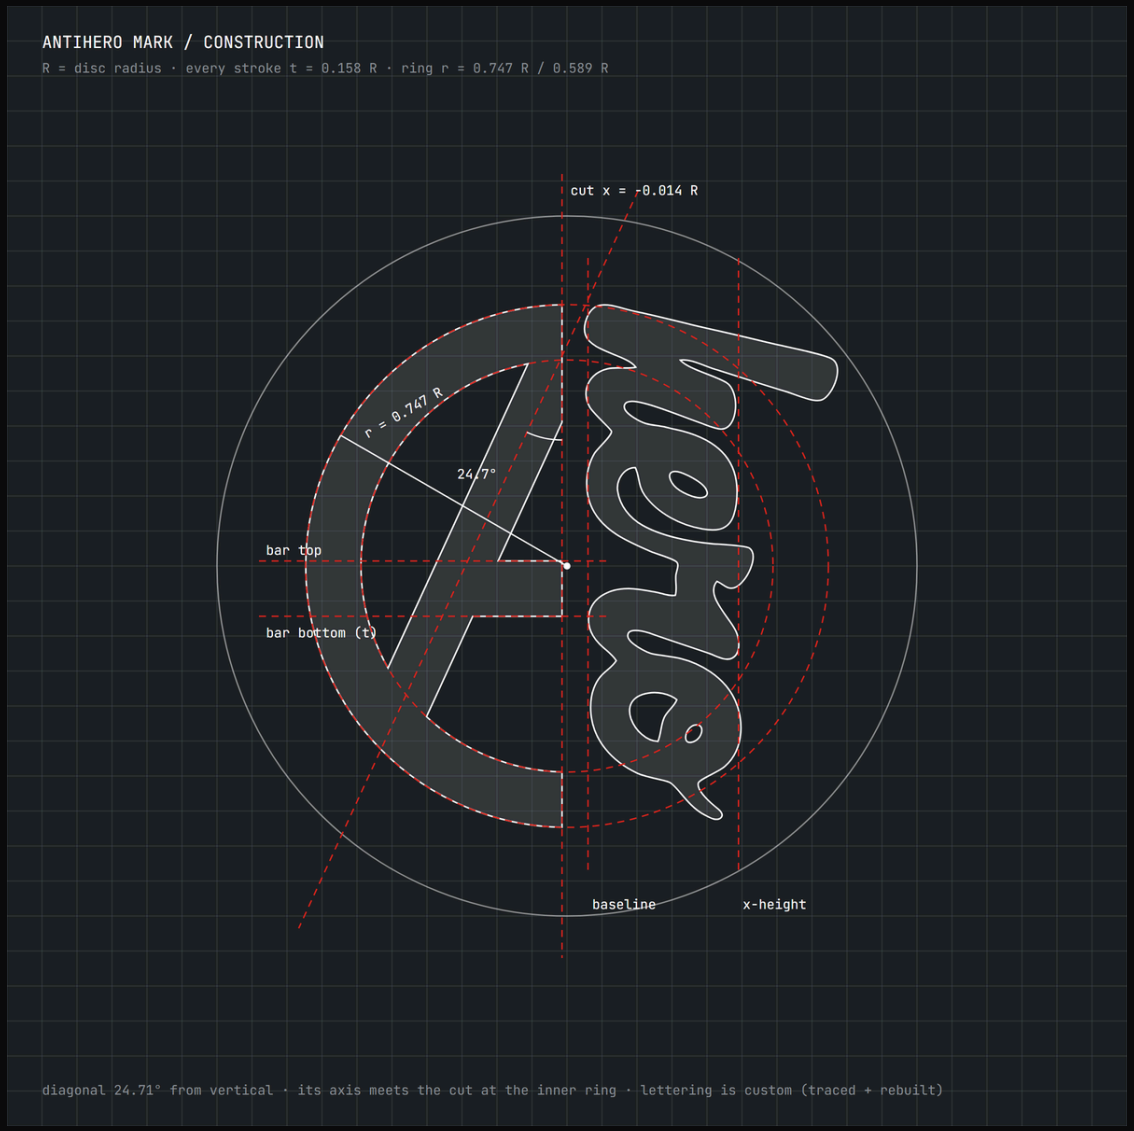

A CIRCLE YOU FINISH

1 The open ring. Half a circle. It is waiting for the other half.

2 The A. The circle-A, the old sign for going your own way. The anti in AntiHero.

3 hero. Hand-lettered, human, a little rough. It closes the circle, rotated along the edge like a signature.

4 The disc. Carbon #1D2124, sampled from the original badge. On light grounds it keeps the white mark legible.

CONSTRUCTION

BUILT ON ONE STROKE

Disc radius	R
Every stroke (ring, diagonal, bar)	t = 0.158 R
Ring outer / inner radius	0.747 R / 0.589 R
Vertical cut	x = -0.014 R
Diagonal	24.7° from vertical
Diagonal axis	meets the cut at the inner ring
Crossbar	top on the centre line
Lettering	custom, traced + rebuilt

Always place the logo from the master files. Never redraw it, and never set hero in a font: no typeface matches it.

THE FAMILY

ONE MARK, EIGHT JOBS

BADGE

Primary. Avatars, stamps, merch, anywhere it stands alone.

MARK

No disc. For dark photos and textures, embossing, engraving.

WORDMARK

ANTI + hero. Headers, sign-offs, footers.

CAPS WORDMARK

When the script would be too small (under 24 px tall).

LABEL

The heritage label box. Covers, thumbnails, stickers.

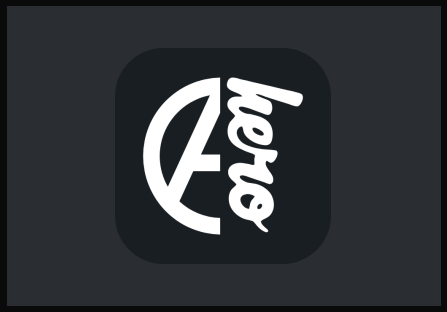

HORIZONTAL LOCKUP

Websites, email headers, slide footers.

STACKED LOCKUP

Posters, title slides, merch backs.

APP ICON

Square containers: app, PWA, favicon masters.

DUO MARK

Knockout versions are one compound shape: the letters are real holes, so the surface shows through. Use them for single-color printing, vinyl cutting, and laser work.

CLEAR SPACE + MINIMUM SIZE

GIVE IT A QUARTER

Keep a clear margin of one quarter of the badge's diameter on every side. No text, edges, or other logos inside it.

BADGE ≥ 24 PX / 10 MM

WORDMARK ≥ 18 PX TALL

FAVICONS

Under 32 px, use the files in `02_Logos/05_Icons`. They are rendered at native size so the lettering stays readable.

MISUSE

EIGHT WAYS TO BREAK IT

Don't stretch or squash it.

Don't rotate it to straighten “hero”.

Don't retype “hero” in a font.

Don't add glows, bevels, or shadows.

Don't use colors outside the palette.

Don't place it on busy, low-contrast images.

Don't put the red wordmark on red.

Don't crop the badge or clip the ring.

SECTION 05

COLOR

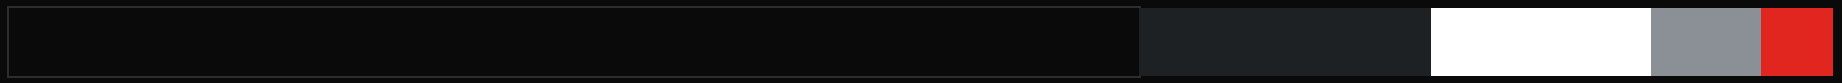

Black and white do the talking. Red makes one point, once.

PALETTE

NINE COLORS. ONE ACCENT.

PROPORTION · A TYPICAL LAYOUT

Files: `07_Color` has the Adobe swatch file (.ase), CSS variables, JSON tokens, and a GIMP palette. Pantone values are nearest matches: check them against a swatch book before printing.

RULES

THE ONE RED THING RULE

Every layout gets one red idea: a word, a button, a label, or the hero in the wordmark. Two red things compete. Zero is fine.

- Pair a bright, open scene with dark type: black label boxes and panels over light imagery, white boxes over dark grounds.
- Red is never a background for long text, and never a full-page wash.
- On red, everything is white: the wordmark too.
- Keep photography bright and natural. If the picture already carries red (the balloon, the red plane), the red tag may echo it; nothing else goes red.
- Ember only appears as a pressed or hover state.

THE SIGNATURE DEVICE

THE LABEL SYSTEM

Straight from the original channel art: Bebas Neue set on solid boxes and stacked like a warning label. It is the fastest way to make anything look like AntiHero.

- Over bright imagery: black boxes with white text. Over dark grounds: white boxes with black text. One red box per layout.
- Padding: 0.14 × the font size top and bottom, 0.2 left and right.
- Stack boxes flush, with no gap. Let the widths step.
- Keep the stack clear of the picture's subject (the balloon, the plane). Left-align on covers and posts.
- Pair with the flanking rules: two hairlines either side of a short line.

SECTION 07

IMAGERY

Open sky, first light, and a little altitude. Dark type does the talking on top.

GRAPHIC DEVICES

THE TOOLKIT

THE RED ONE

One red thing inside the picture (a balloon, a plane, a tag) carries the accent. Everything else stays sky, white, and black.

SHORT LINE

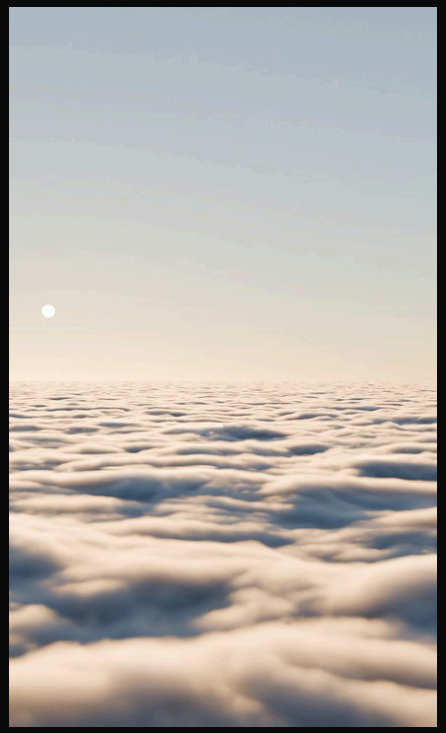

FLANKING RULES

Two hairlines either side of a short line, from the original banner.

> build your own

THE PROMPT LINE

Mono text, a red caret, and a block cursor. Marks anything AI.

FIRST LIGHT

Sunrise above the clouds: the old sunset banner, reborn as a morning. The brand's signature backdrop.

IMAGERY DIRECTION

RISE ABOVE, LIGHT FIRST

Every picture should feel like a morning: open sky, altitude, and a sense of getting out. The metaphors are flight and freedom: rising, launching, leaving the formation, seeing further.

SHOOT + USE

Sunrise skies, cloud seas, balloons, paper planes, drones, open roads, summits, real people building real things in daylight. Technology that looks friendly and useful.

SKIP

Dark "hacker" tech, glowing circuit brains, robots, stock smiles, handshakes, rented supercars, cash fans, and anything that sells a lifestyle instead of a skill.

TREATMENT

Keep it bright and natural, a touch warm. Fine grain is fine; heavy filters are not. Dark comes from the type: black label boxes and panels on top of the light. One red element carries the colour.

UPLOAD

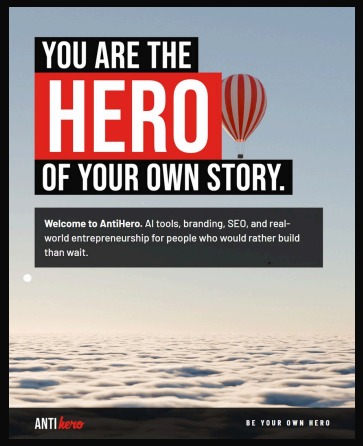

1. Profile: `antihero-fb-profile-carbon_2048px.png`
2. Cover: `antihero-fb-page-cover-rise_1640x924.png`. Drag to centre if Facebook asks.
3. Group cover: the `_1640x856` file in `Group-Cover`.
4. Check the `_safe-zone-guides` folder to see what each device crops.

Every cover keeps its text inside a 1100 × 560 centre zone, so it survives desktop, mobile, and the profile-picture overlap.

CO-BRANDING RULES

GIVE FIRST. ASK RARELY.

1. The community is the product. AntiHero leads everything members see. It gives away real value until people ask how to work with you.
2. Nine to one. About nine posts of pure value for every post that points to KR8TIV or KR8TIV AI. The ask is an invitation or a case study, never a pitch in someone's DMs.
3. Teach with real work. "How we automated a crew's back office" is a lesson first and a KR8TIV AI case study second.
4. One colour inside AntiHero. On AntiHero layouts the sister logos appear single-colour (white or black), never in their own accents, so the one-red rule holds.
5. Each brand keeps its own look on its own site. Optional: the studios can point back with the "Part of the AntiHero family" endorsement in their footers.
6. One founder voice. Matt signs the posts. No corporate "we" in the group.

FOOTER ENDORSEMENT FOR KR8TIV.IO AND KR8TIV.AI

The "Work with us" post is the one-in-ten ask: it names both studios and their sites, then gets out of the way.
